

Management's Coronavirus update to residents – March 5, 2020

Good day, shareholders. This is a reminder to all Co-op City residents. The CDC recommends proper and frequent handwashing to help prevent the spread of germs and viruses. Management has proactively implemented precautionary measures into our daily operations and is working with our community partners, including JASA, to formulate contingency plans in case the need arises. Please continue to take personal responsibility and follow all advisable steps to ensure your personal surroundings are clean and sanitary. We will continue to update you as is necessary. Remember to also tune in to the Riverbay Crawler for more information.
